How can I draw money from my HELOC account?

We offer a few convenient options:

- Online: Log in to our website or app to initiate an ACH draw/advance to transfer funds to your designated checking/savings account.
- Phone: Call our customer service team.
- By check: Some HELOCs offer checkbooks for use during open draw periods. When this option is available, a checkbook is mailed within a few weeks after we begin servicing the HELOC.

Please note, before releasing funds from your account, we need to contact you via the phone number and/or email address we have on file for your HELOC account to safeguard your HELOC from fraud.

Can I order more checks?

To request additional checks, please contact us by phone. To keep your account secure, we do not accept new checkbook orders online.

Can I place a stop on a HELOC check?

Yes, you can request a stop payment for your HELOC check.

What should I do if my HELOC account is frozen?

If you are in an open draw period and the initial draw freeze conditions of your HELOC agreement have expired, please contact us if you are unable to access your available funds.

What happens at the end of the draw period?

When a draw period closes, the repayment period begins. Head's up: Your minimum monthly payment may change based on your HELOC agreement.
